

JUD 4260 Kabbalah and Messianism

Kabbalah (a form of Jewish mysticism that emerged during the medieval period) is at the root of various messianic ideologies and movements which became highly influential during the early modern and modern eras. Focuses on the central doctrines of Kabbalah, the geographical and social contexts in which these mystical ideas and messianic trends evolved, and the internal factors that led to their popularization.

3 hours; 3 undergraduate credits

UCEA reserves the right, because of changing conditions, to make modifications of any nature in academic programs and requirements of the university and its constituent colleges without advance notice. Students are advised to consult regularly with academic advisor concerning their programs of study.